

Su Shin

As Hawaiian Telcom's first female president in its 140-year history, Shin stewards the company's landmark investments topping $1 billion over the past 10 years to expand its future-proof fiber infrastructure across the state. She is passionate about advancing the company's mission to connect and empower our Hawai'i and bridging the digital divide. Shin graduated from McKinley High School before receiving her bachelor's degree from the University of La Verne in California. She is committed to giving back to the community, serving on the Boards of Aloha United Way, the Blood Bank of Hawaii, Bell Charitable Foundation, and the McKinley High School Foundation.
